2016-17	Accelerating SF Government Performance. Taking Accountability and Transparency to the Next Level	F1	The broader public is barely aware of the performance scorecard (PS) framework, diminishing its utility and hampering the ability of San Francisco's Government (SFG) to communicate progress to San Franciscans.	Mayor	disagree, partially	The City has maintained a robust performance measurement system for almost two decades, and finding the right medium and right mix of measures is always a priority. The Mayor's Office has been engaged in a number of efforts to publicize the City's constantly improve in performance measurement systems. The Scorecard website is a relatively new framework, launched in January 2016. The Mayor's Office updated its home page to include a direct link to the Scorecard website. Additionally, the local media closely follows the performance reporting done by the City, and frequently publishes articles based on performance reports issued by the City. The Mayor's Office will continue to publish performance information, including, but not limited to, the Scorecard website to the public. Broad public awareness is always the goal.
2016-17	Accelerating SF Government Performance. Taking Accountability and Transparency to the Next Level	F1	The broader public is barely aware of the performance scorecard (PS) framework, diminishing its utility and hampering the ability of San Francisco's Government (SFG) to communicate progress to San Franciscans.	Board of Supervisors	agree with finding	The scorecard framework is relatively new addition to public governance, and adding a direct link via the Mayor's homepage is good governance which the Mayor's office has done.
2016-17	Accelerating SF Government Performance. Taking Accountability and Transparency to the Next Level	F2	Despite the Mayor's role as the accountable executive of the SFG, the Mayor does not directly report performance results to the public, as is done in other leading cities.	Mayor	disagree, partially	The Mayor's Office participates in performance reporting in a number of ways. The Mayor's Budget Book published each June includes a series of performance measures for each department with data on past performance, projected performance, and target performance. The Mayor's Office also works closely with the Controller's Office to support the Performance Measurement Database, and the Controller's Office publishes an annual report with all of the City's performance measures. Lastly, the Scorecards website, which publishes up-to-date performance information online, was developed and is maintained in collaboration with the Controller's Office.
2016-17	Accelerating SF Government Performance. Taking Accountability and Transparency to the Next Level	F2	Despite the Mayor's role as the accountable executive of the SFG, the Mayor does not directly report performance results to the public, as is done in other leading cities.	Board of Supervisors	disagree, partially	The Mayor's office does engage in reporting performance to the public in many forms, and it is not clear that adopting the suggested measures will result in increased government transparency nor does this Finding address the role of the Controller's Office as a neutral body.

2016-17	Accelerating SF Government Performance. Taking Accountability and Transparency to the Next Level	F2	Despite the Mayor's role as the accountable executive of the SFG, the Mayor does not directly report performance results to the public, as is done in other leading cities.	Controller	disagree, partially	The Mayor's Office does performance reporting to the public in the Mayor's Budget Book, DataSF, and in many other ways. The Mayor's Office works as a partner with the Controller's Office in the development of the citywide performance reporting products that our office creates and maintains; they work with us in the development of the Performance Scorecards, and the content of the larger Performance Measurement Database. Organizationally there is value to having the core public reporting function in the Controller's Office. It is our job to provide neutral non-political measurement and reporting as is contemplated in Charter Appendix F. The Controller's Office can carry out stable, long-term development and maintenance of performance reporting in a way that an office more directly affected by election cycles cannot.
2016-17	Accelerating SF Government Performance. Taking Accountability and Transparency to the Next Level	F3	The PS framework encompasses too many indicators – some of the indicators are of great importance, whereas others are much less significant.	Mayor	disagree, partially	The City currently tracks semi-annual performance data for over 1,000 measures. The Performance Scorecard website was developed to focus on a more limited set of measures that are the most relevant to the public and policymakers. While the website features a more limited set of measures, an important feature of the Scorecard website is that it presents a multi-dimensional picture of City services and the overall health and viability of the San Francisco as a City and government.
2016-17	Accelerating SF Government Performance. Taking Accountability and Transparency to the Next Level	F3	The PS framework encompasses too many indicators – some of the indicators are of great importance, whereas others are much less significant.	Board of Supervisors	disagree, partially	It is important to continue to report on all indicators as is current practice, and we recommend instead, re-organizing the performance scorecard framework to highlight 20-30 key indicators in an easily accessible manner.

2016-17	Accelerating SF Government Performance. Taking Accountability and Transparency to the Next Level	F3	The PS framework encompasses too many indicators – some of the indicators are of great importance, whereas others are much less significant.	Controller	disagree, partially	The Performance Scorecard project - focusing on fewer than 100 key performance metrics - is partially in response to the general observation that both current and past grand juries have made, and that the Controller's Office concurs with - that too many measures in publicly-facing reporting can make it difficult for policy makers or the public to understand what to focus on and what is truly important. The scorecards measures have been selected through a process that involves review of over 1,000 measures tracked and reported through our performance measurement program. However, San Francisco is a uniquely consolidated government, combining city, county, and many regional functions that in most other places are stand-alone governmental entities. Given this broad scope of services, the Performance Scorecards should report on performance across a larger number of services than the examples provided in the CGJ report. While some indicators are of great importance, some are included to provide educational information to the public and policymakers about the essential functions of government. We regularly review the relevance and importance of this new performance reporting tool and will continue to refine the selection and quantity of performance measures highlighted on the Performance Scorecards website, to eliminate less valuable indicators, while developing those of greater importance.
2016-17	Accelerating SF Government Performance. Taking Accountability and Transparency to the Next Level	F4	Having performance indicators without associated goals goes against practice in other leading cities, and limits the public's ability to understand how the SFG is progressing.	Mayor	disagree, partially	While the Scorecards website endeavors to have an associated goal for all measures, some measures lend themselves to tracking for the purpose of understanding trends. Performance trends can demonstrate important and useful information for observing performance over time. For example, by looking at performance trends, we can see that the numbers of active probationers or the population juvenile hall in San Francisco are decreasing, which speaks to the policies and practices that the City has put in to place better than measuring against a target population number. However, the Mayor's Office agrees that most measures should have an established target or benchmark to measure against, and will continue to work with departments to determine that best target or benchmark for each measure, where appropriate.

2016-17	Accelerating SF Government Performance. Taking Accountability and Transparency to the Next Level	F4	Having performance indicators without associated goals goes against practice in other leading cities, and limits the public's ability to understand how the SFG is progressing.	Controller	disagree, partially	We concur that performance measures are most meaningful if goals, targets, or projections are established as a benchmark against which to evaluate actual results. The majority of scorecard indicators report and track results against a target established through the City's budget process. In limited instances, policymakers have not yet identified a goal for a given measure which we have begun tracking using this tool; we expect continued improvement in this area in coming cycles as this new performance tracking tool becomes more broadly utilized, and have added targets for measures formally without them in the prior year during this year's cycle. However, in other limited circumstances, we have chosen to track high public interest measures in the scorecard format where goals are not likely to be established in the nearer term, or where to do so would not be practical, such as for certain economic or demographic information.
2016-17	Accelerating SF Government Performance. Taking Accountability and Transparency to the Next Level	F4	Having performance indicators without associated goals goes against practice in other leading cities, and limits the public's ability to understand how the SFG is progressing.	Board of Supervisors	agree with finding	Having goals, benchmarks, and targets associated with indicators helps the city better track it's performance.
2016-17	Accelerating SF Government Performance. Taking Accountability and Transparency to the Next Level	F5	Citizens have almost no means by which to regularly and systematically assess the SFG's performance relative to other leading cities; in contrast, other leading cities provide this information to their citizens.	Controller	disagree, wholly	The Controller's Office publishes performance benchmarking reports, including a new FY17 Citywide Annual Benchmarking report, comparing San Francisco to similar jurisdictions across seven policy areas. This report is very broad and methodologically rigorous and is a best in class example of government benchmarking data. One of the two examples provided in the CGJ report as a best practice for comparison reporting is the national index for major road quality. As mentioned previously, this dataset is misleading in the quality of San Francisco's streets as it combines reporting with Oakland and highways managed by the State, both of which have lower results in road quality. We were unable to find results of the other example mentioned regarding the Austin performance reporting.

2016-17	Accelerating SF Government Performance. Taking Accountability and Transparency to the Next Level	F6	The PS framework is not formally integrated into the SFG's planning process other than occasional budget discussions, whereas its true value is the extent to which SFG planning and budgeting is directly linked to the PS framework.	Mayor	disagree, partially	As part of the budget development process, the Mayor's Budget Office carefully reviews a number of departmental performance measures, including, but not limited to, the measures that appear on the Scorecards website. These measures, including the Performance Scorecard measures, are published in the annual Mayor's Budget Book, and reported regularly on the Mayor's website. However, the Mayor's Office agrees that there are additional, important steps that can be taken to further integrate performance measures into City planning.
2016-17	Accelerating SF Government Performance. Taking Accountability and Transparency to the Next Level	F6	The PS framework is not formally integrated into the SFG's planning process other than occasional budget discussions, whereas its true value is the extent to which SFG planning and budgeting is directly linked to the PS framework.	Board of Supervisors	disagree, partially	Aspects of the Performance Scorecard framework are already a part of the planning process per the Mayor's office, but a more formal incorporation is needed, in departmental strategic plans and budget discussions, to better align our decision-making to the Scorecard.
2016-17	Accelerating SF Government Performance. Taking Accountability and Transparency to the Next Level	F7	The specific indicators used within the SFG's PS framework to track performance in the areas of the gravest public concern should be updated to better reflect what the SFG is doing to address the public's gravest concerns.	Mayor	disagree, partially	The Mayor's Office agrees that indicators should reflect those measures that are of concern to the public and policymakers. However, the Performance Scorecard website should also reflect performance against charter-mandated levels of services, or industry best practices. Limiting the Performance Scorecard website to only those measures that are of gravest public concern would limit reporting, and would leave out performance reporting that has been mandated by the voters or others. The Mayor's Office will continue to work with the Controller's Office to ensure that the Performance Scorecard website includes updated performance measures that best reflect the priorities of the City.

Taking Accountability and Transparency to the Next Level	F7	The specific indicators used within the SFG's PS framework to track performance in the areas of the gravest public concern should be updated to better reflect what the SFG is doing to address the public's gravest concerns.	Controller	agree with finding	We regularly evaluate the relevance of performance measures included in the Performance Scorecard website. As this is a new tool, we are still collecting ideas and input in how to best refine what is included and have made changes by adding or revising measures as better performance reporting is identified. Several new measures have been added or are in development for the new fiscal year -- including transit ridership, housing production, and new measures for homeless services in the City -- while other measures of more limited importance have been eliminated. Continued feedback on measure
2016-17	Accelerating SF Government Performance. Taking Accountability and Transparency to the Next Level	F8	Noting the severe economic inequality within and between various neighborhoods and communities in the City, and consistent with the City's long-standing reputation for socially inclusive policies, the PS framework should more directly gauge SFG progress in addressing social, gender and racial equity.	Controller	agree with finding	Our original direction with the Performance Scorecards has been to show the level and effectiveness of public services of SF as is mandated under Charter Appendix F. We agree that the City has policy goals directed at addressing social, gender and racial equity and will work to include measures of these issues in future development efforts. We will work to include new measures with these goals in mind in the coming fiscal year.

2016-17	Accelerating SF Government Performance. Taking Accountability and Transparency to the Next Level	R2.1	Consistent with other leading cities, beginning in 2018 the Mayor should present an annual SFG Performance report that concisely communicates SFG performance and progress to the public; the public transmission of which should consist of: i. Hosting a public press conference, the first of which would occur not later than January 31, 2019, announcing the SFG's annual performance. ii. Posting the SFG Performance report, not later than January 31, 2019, on the Office of the Mayor's website homepage. iii. Submitting the SFG Performance report to the Board of Supervisors for comment. iv. Within 30 days of the Board of Supervisors response, the Controller's Office should update the PS website to reflect annual SFG performance, with comments from the Board of Supervisors and responses from the Office of the Mayor included online for the public's reference.	Mayor	The recommendation will not be implemented because it is not warranted or reasonable	The Mayor's Office has taken a number of steps to communicate performance results to the public. The Mayor's Office proactively publishes performance information by directly linking to the Performance Scorecard website on the Mayor's homepage. It is important to note that the City Charter gives the Controller authority to collect, manage, and report performance information. The Controller is mandated to report on performance information, and will continue to do annual reporting. However, the Mayor's Office will continue to augment reporting efforts, as appropriate.

Controller	The recommendation will not be implemented because it is not warranted or reasonable	This recommendation should be directed to the Mayor and Board of Supervisors, and not to the Controller's Office. The Controller's Office will continue to develop and maintain citywide performance reporting in our program as mandated under the Charter. We also want to support accountability, public reporting and performance management desired and requested by the Mayor and Board of Supervisors, in their roles as elected policymakers responsible for overall governmental performance. We will work with them to publish materials and provide information for public hearings, in the form and process that they establish to promote transparency and accountability.

We concur, however, that periodic static reporting on trends is always valuable, and have produced an annual report summarizing trends over the year and overall progress towards adopted goals. Accelerating SF Government Performance: RESPONSES TO CGJ RECOMMENDATIONS

CGJ Year	Report Title	#	Recommendations	Respondent assigned by CGJ	2017 Responses (implementation)	2017 Response Text
2016-17	Accelerating SF Government Performance. Taking Accountability and Transparency to the Next Level	R3.1	In consultation with other SFG entities and community groups, the Office of the Controller should propose a narrowed set of PS indicators, likely not exceeding 30 total, by October 1, 2017; the Board of Supervisor's GAO Committee should be invited to comment on the revised indicators prior to submission to the Office of the Mayor for review and approval.	Mayor	The recommendation will not be implemented because it is not warranted or reasonable	The City currently tracks performance data for over 1,000 measures. The Performance Scorecard website represents a more focused set of measures that are the most relevant to the public and policymakers. In addition to focusing on these priority areas, the Performance Scorecard website is meant to present a multi-dimensional picture of City services and overall health and viability of the City itself. In order to do this, the Performance Scorecard includes a broad array of measures, some of which are meant to be simply educational and informative to both the public and policymakers. In collaboration with the Controller's Office, we regularly review the measures reported on the Performance Scorecard website to highlight those that are more important or most informative to the public or policymakers, while also representing the full scope of City services and overall viability. In past attempts to put a hard number, such as 30, on the development of indicators, the process inevitably produces resentment from many pockets of community and city workers who may have felt that Important Information gets left out. The Mayor prioritizes, and City staff values, that all City efforts are inclusive and considered through an equity lens. When developing indicators, the City balances this strong San Francisco value with the need for brevity. This is something the Mayor cares about deeply and is a constant balancing act.
2016-17	Accelerating SF Government Performance. Taking Accountability and Transparency to the Next Level	R3.1	In consultation with other SFG entities and community groups, the Office of the Controller should propose a narrowed set of PS indicators, likely not exceeding 30 total, by October 1, 2017; the Board of Supervisor's GAO Committee should be invited to comment on the revised indicators prior to submission to the Office of the Mayor for review and approval.	Controller	The recommendation will not be implemented because it is not warranted or reasonable	The Performance Scorecard project - focusing on fewer than 90 key performance metrics - is partially in response to the general observation that both current and past Grand Juries have made, and that the Controller's Office concurs with - that too many measures in publicly-facing reporting can make it difficult for policy makers or the public to understand what to focus on and what is truly important. The scorecards measures have been selected through a process that involves review of over 1,000 measures tracked and reported through our performance measurement program. However, San Francisco is a uniquely consolidated government, combining city, county, and many regional functions that in most other places are stand-alone governmental entities. Given this broad scope of services, the Performance Scorecards should report on performance across a larger number of services than the examples from other jurisdictions provided in the CGJ report. While some indicators are of great importance, some are included to provide educational information to the public and policymakers about the essential functions of government. We regularly review the relevance and importance of this new performance reporting tool and will continue to refine the selection and quantity of performance measures highlighted on the Performance Scorecards website, to eliminate less valuable indicators, while developing those of greater importance. We continue to seek and welcome input on the specific Performance Scorecard measures from the Mayor's Office, Board of Supervisors, and others, and will continue to solicit feedback on both appropriate scorecard measurements and goals.

Accelerating SF Government Performance: RESPONSES TO CGJ RECOMMENDATIONS

CGJ Year	Report Title	#	Recommendations	Respondent assigned by CGJ	2017 Responses (implementation)	2017 Response Text
2016-17	Accelerating SF Government Performance. Taking Accountability and Transparency to the Next Level	R3.2	In consultation with other SFG entities and community groups, the Controller's Office should evaluate, no later than July 1, 2018, the feasibility of including district level reporting on some or all indicators and posting this information within the online PS platform, enabling citizens to understand progress in their neighborhoods.	Controller	The recommendation has not been, but will be, implemented in the future	There is some geographic reporting available in the a limited number of the scorecard measures, and links to other geospatial analyses we perform are embedded within the measure pages. We concur that the inclusion of additional geographic variance reporting for key measures will add value to the site, and will explore feasibility of expanding such reporting in the coming fiscal year, as recommended.
2016-17	Accelerating SF Government Performance. Taking Accountability and Transparency to the Next Level	R4.1	The Mayor's Office should ensure that by January 1, 2018 every PS indicator has a linked goal, with all goals approved by the Mayor – these goals comprise the SFG's overarching annual operational plan.	Mayor	The recommendation has not been, but will be, implemented in the future	This work has been planned for months and is now underway. January 1, 2018 is an ambitious goal given that the Mayor values inclusion and consensus building, and working with 50 departments (whose goals are often a reflection of community engagement practices) will likely require timely and focused deep dives into their data systems and then back to the community if we do not currently have the right inputs. The Mayor's Office is very enthusiastic about this work and the goal is to get it right, setting the right precedent for building strategic plans moving forward.
2016-17	Accelerating SF Government Performance. Taking Accountability and Transparency to the Next Level	R4.1	The Mayor's Office should ensure that by January 1, 2018 every PS indicator has a linked goal, with all goals approved by the Mayor – these goals comprise the SFG's overarching annual operational plan.	Board of Supervisors	The recommendation has not been, but will be, implemented in the future	The Government Audit and Oversight Committee will review the implementation within six months from June 5, 2017.
2016-17	Accelerating SF Government Performance. Taking Accountability and Transparency to the Next Level	R4.2	The Controller's Office should ensure that by January 1, 2018 the PS framework includes comparative performance figures against prior year goals alongside the current year goal and progress, so citizens can understand the trend of SFG progress.	Controller	The recommendation has not been, but will be, implemented in the future	The addition of trend data and indicators are features for the site which are under development. We intend to complete this work in the year ahead.
2016-17	Accelerating SF Government Performance. Taking Accountability and Transparency to the Next Level	R5	The Controller's Office should identify the top 3-5 rankings/indices relevant to each scorecard, and add these to the PS framework by January 1, 2018.	Controller	The recommendation requires further analysis	Concurrent with the development of the Performance Scorecard program, we have revised our approach to annual benchmark reporting, and now have a broad and comprehensive benchmarking report that, for key measures such as street conditions, includes review of scorecard measures versus other jurisdictions. We anticipate increasing the linkages between these two related projects, where possible and valuable, and will continue to do so in the coming fiscal year and beyond. The specific use of 3-5 jurisdictional comparisons and completion by the specific date recommended are not feasible or advisable, from our perspective.
2016-17	Accelerating SF Government Performance. Taking Accountability and Transparency to the Next Level	R6	Beginning in fiscal year 2018, the revised PS framework should be formally incorporated into the SFG department strategic planning and budgeting process – in particular, the Office of the Mayor should require each department to: i. Specify within their departmental strategic plans which initiatives directly support the SFG's PS goals most relevant to their operational mandate, and what improvement they project in achieving that goal. ii. Specify within their departmental budget submission how their budget request is directly supportive of improved SFG performance against the PS goals most relevant to their operational mandate.	Mayor	The recommendation has not been, but will be, implemented in the future	This work has been planned and is currently under way. The Mayor's Office is actively working with all departments to draft brief public-facing summaries of their more complex and detailed strategic plans. These summaries will include the alignment between individual department plans and the Mayor's citywide vision. This work is being performed In tandem with Recommendation R.4.1 above, as it is not always clear to the public how the measures connect with strategy, which ultimately connects with the budget. The City has been and will continue to be committed to this endeavor. Strategy and performance must be made more accessible to a broader public.

2016-17	Accelerating SF Government Performance. Taking Accountability and Transparency to the Next Level	R6	Beginning in fiscal year 2018, the revised PS framework should be formally incorporated into the SFG department strategic planning and budgeting process – in particular, the Office of the Mayor should require each department to: i. Specify within their departmental strategic plans which initiatives directly support the SFG's PS goals most relevant to their operational mandate, and what improvement they project in achieving that goal. ii. Specify within their departmental budget submission how their budget request is directly supportive of improved SFG performance against the PS goals most relevant to their operational mandate.	Board of Supervisors	The recommendation has not been, but will be, implemented in the future	The Government Audit and Oversight Committee will review the implementation within six months from June 5, 2017.
